College Enrollment Record Hits New High

Enrollment at the State College, Indiana, Pennsylvania, has reached a record figure in 1960-61 for the sixth consecutive year despite every effort to hold down enrollment because of the need for more facilities.

A total of 3125 full time undergraduates are now enrolled at the college in Indiana, according to Mary L. Esch, registrar.

This number includes 3097 full time students and 28 persons who are now enrolled full time but who will transfer to nurses training at the Indiana Hospital at the end of the current semester.

The 3125 figure for 1960-61 compares with the 2893, including 30 nurses, for 1959-60, and the 2647 figure including 21 nurses for 1958-59.

Of the 3125, 1393 are men and 1732 are women. Of the 3125 students, 1302 are day students and 1823 are boarding students.

In addition to the full time enrollment of 3125 there are 1000 different persons enrolled part time in the graduate studies division, 110 teachers in service taking Saturday Campus classes, and about 240 other part time students, including those taking the TV course.

General Alumni Association Meeting Secretary's Minutes

May 28, 1960

The annual meeting of the General Alumni Association was held in Fisher Auditorium on Saturday morning, May 28, 1960, at 10:30 a.m. The President, Mr. Franklin George, opened the meeting with the following remarks, "The May 28, 1960, meeting of the General Alumni Association is now called to order. We wish to welcome you on this occasion and sincerely hope that you may have a very pleasant day."

A motion was made and approved to dispense with the reading of the minutes of the May 1959 meeting since they were published in the October 1959 Alumni Bulletin

Mrs. J. P. Clarke and Miss Kathryn McFadden escorted the Senior Class into the auditorium and Mrs. Clarke, was appropriate remarks, presented the Class for membership in the Alumni Association.

Mr. George welcomed the Class into membership in the Association and stated that he would like to urge each member of the graduating class to become an active member of the Alumni Association and to take part in its program. Mr. Kenneth Mechling, Class President, responded for the class by saying, "I, for the Class of 1960, accept with honor and pleasure membership in the Alumni Association. We shall always be grateful for the many opportunities Indiana has given us and we hereby pledge our assistance to further the programs of the Alumni Association."

The financial report was then given by Miss Mary L. Esch. (See Executive Council Minutes, May 28, 1960)

Mrs. Sally Johnson gave a brief report from the Projects Committee meeting and stated that the committee had discussed a reorganization of the Association, an annual giving program, and allocated $2,500 for alumni publications for the 1960-61 college year. She reported that she had named the following persons as a committee to study alumni-giving programs at other colleges and universities: Mrs. Audrey Graham, Chairman; Mrs. Rose McManus, Dr. Arthur Nicholson, and Miss Mary L. Esch.

Mrs. Graham commented on the work to be done by the Committee by saying that they would like the members of the Alumni Association to try to secure information on the annual giving program of other colleges and universities even outside of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Nicholson reported on the Alumni Bulletin. He said that in the March 1960 issue there was an interesting article by Bertrand Russell, and that the June issue will carry an article by Margaret Mead, "Is College Compatible with Marriage?"

In speaking of the Council of Alumni Association of State Colleges in Pennsylvania, Dr. Nicholson stated that Indiana State College belonged to this organization for one year and that it is our considered opinion that we should withdraw our membership and maintain an observation attitude toward this organization. A motion to this effect was made and passed unanimously at the Executive Council Meeting, May 28, 1960.

Miss Esch then gave a report on the Athletic Field Project. (See Executive Council Minutes, May 28, 1960)

The President of the College, Dr. Willis E. Pratt, then addressed the audience, "I am very happy to welcome all of you again, and the seniors as well. I wish I could speak to you in length this morning, but I cannot do that now. I hope that you have seen the new buildings on campus including Walsh Hall, the new science building; Cogswell Hall, the new music building; and Wahr and Langham Halls, the new dormitories. I trust you will all come to the cornerstone laying for Stabley Hall, the new library. Thank you very much for coming to see us."

The reunion classes were recognized with a round of applause. It is interesting to note the number from each class attending the meeting as shown below:

Demand For Teachers Continues High

Over 9,000 requests for teachers were made to the Indiana State College Placement Office during the year September 1, 1959 to August 31, 1960, according to John E. Davis, director of student teaching, placement, and Keith School at Indiana State College.

In total there were 9,167 different requests for teachers made of the Indiana State College placement office.

These requests represented a total of 3,250 schools. The greatest demand for teachers, Dr. Davis said, was in the elementary education field. There were 2,512 different requests for elementary education teachers.

There were 777 requests for teachers of languages including 414 for English, 28 for Spanish, 39 for French, 8 for German, 12 for Latin, 166 for English and a foreign language combination, 45 for English and speech, 9 for English and reading, 55 for no definite language, and 1 for journalism.

In the total period covered, Indiana State College had about 650 graduates, Dr. Davis said. This meant that there were about 14 requests on the average for every graduate available.

In general, Dr. Davis said, every Indiana State College graduate for the year who wished to teach was placed in a position. Many of them had a choice of a good many different positions.

Mrs. Johnson gave a brief report from the Projects Committee meeting and stated that the committee had discussed a reorganization of the Association, an annual giving program, and allocated $2,500 for alumni publications for the 1960-61 college year. She reported that she had named a committee to study alumni-giving programs at other colleges; the personnel of the committee—Mrs. Audrey Graham, Chairman; Mrs. Rose McManus, Dr. Arthur Nicholson, and Miss Mary L. Esch.

Dr. Nicholson reported on the Alumni Bulletin and stated that the June issue was being printed today. The March issue has carried an article by Bertrand Russell on "University Education and Modern Conditions," which was one of the finest articles written in our time on education; the June issue will carry an article by Margaret Mead, famous anthropologist, on "Is College Compatible with Marriage?" He also asked that the alumni keep sending in news items. Dr. Nicholson said that in the near future the Alumni Bulletin would be supplemented with news letters which Dr. Pratt intends to prepare. These will be sent to all alumni for which we have an address. Bulletins go only to those who are dues-paying members.

The following remarks were made by Dr. Nicholson on the Council of Alumni Associations of State Teachers Colleges: "I have made several remarks in the past about this alumni council. This is the association of alumni of State Colleges in Pennsylvania. It cost us $1,200 to belong to the organization for a year and I suppose at this meeting we should make some decision as to whether or not we should continue our membership. Now as of the last year, in which we had a full membership, all the State Colleges were members except West Chester and Lock Haven. Slippery Rock was in only partially. We thought we should go along with this for a year because it would be embarrassing not to do so. This organization employed a man, Mr. Paul Comley French, to work as a representative in the legislature for the State Colleges in Pennsylvania. We attended the meetings from time to time in Harrisburg. We tried to find out just exactly what the association was doing and it seemed to me that while Mr. French is a competent person the organization has no real practical purpose, and to continue to belong to it would be a waste of money. Twelve hundred dollars is a very considerable amount of money—$1,200 x 12 is a good budget. What French did accomplish was to spend about $15,000 for intangibles. I see no reason why our alumni association should continue to belong. If the organization of Alumni Associations in Pennsylvania ever could get any real direction, it would probably be to our advantage to belong; but it appears to me that the Board of Presidents and officers of the Alumni Council were undecided and weren't very consistent and, this being the case, I think we could arrive at the conclusion that it isn't worth belonging to the organization at this time. This is just one point of view and there could be others. Quite a number of other individuals share the opinion that while French is a very competent individual he was going in no particular direction and there was no cohesive purpose holding the organization together. We may want to go back in the future, but at the meeting of the Projects Committee this morning we decided to recommend to you that we give a token payment of $100 for the 1960 year as a showing of good feeling and I will so move, Mr. President, that we do not renew our membership in this Council of Alumni Associations of the State Colleges in Pennsylvania, but that we give them $100 as a token contribution to show that we are nominally interested."

Motion was seconded that we give a token payment of $100 to the Council of Alumni Associations of State Colleges in Pennsylvania.

A comment was made from the floor that it was "silly" to send $100 to the organization. After considerable discussion, Dr. Nicholson stated that we became a member of the organization at this time last year but that we are not committed for either the $1,200 for the current year or for the token contribution of $100. Mr. Ankeny requested an amendment to withdraw the motion to send $100 to the Council. The motion was properly made, seconded, and duly passed withdrawing the previous motion.

The chair requested comments from Dr. Nicholson on this matter. He stated that he saw no reason for sending even a token contribution to the organization and that he had no feeling about changing his motion. He then presented the following motion: "That for the present, our Alumni Association shall withdraw its membership in the Council with the right to request membership at some future time if funds are available and we see some good that would result to the college by so doing." The motion properly made, was seconded, and duly passed.

Miss Esch then gave the report on the Athletic Field Project.

President George called for old business and since there was none he called for new business.

Dr. Nicholson stated that he has been increasingly worried about the Alumni Association meetings and the people attending not feeling free to express their opinions. He said that he would always like to hear what the other fellow has to say whether favorable or unfavorable and that the Alumni Association should serve as a platform so that many people could express opinions and viewpoints.

Mr. George then asked the audience to think about the annual giving program so that when the question comes up at the fall meeting it can be thoroughly discussed.

Mrs. Hane, representative from the Philadelphia Unit, told of their plan to get new members for their Unit and of their "Lets Get Together Meeting."

Mrs. Audrey Graham suggested that the Executive Council try to meet in a smaller room.

The following announcement was made by Mr. George, "Official Delegates are guests of the College for the Alumni Luncheon. Complimentary tickets may be secured from Miss Esch."

The President then entertained a motion for adjournment. Meeting adjourned 10.20 a.m.

PHILADELPHIA UNIT — I.S.C. ALUMNI

● We look forward to our spring outing with the Hoehlers for we know we'll have a jolly time. This year, it came off in the afternoon of May 21st with 10 members and 9 guests present. Before and between showers we could hear the click and knew husbands were playing horse-shoes. Wives did not have to urge them to come along and rain could not dampen their fun.

Showers held off until tables were set outdoors with good food and each member sharing her speciality, all topped by Roseanne B. Hane's delicious layer-cake and the Hoehlers' hot drinks and cakes.

After retiring indoors some played cards, while members held a meeting called by President Roseanne B. Hane. Sec.-Treas. Patsy W. High read the minutes including the financial report. We discussed at length what to do about increasing our membership and printing our new directory.

GREETINGS! CLASS OF 1905

Let's show the world we're still alive!

Throw aside the hampering garments of time,

Old age is naught but a "state of mind".

Give arthritis pains a do or dare
And twirl our canes with a jaunty air;

Give up Vitamins B, C, and A,
Our daily dozen day after day.
A sight of the Campus will give us thrills,

A better remedy than taking the pills.

A stroll through the grove once again

Will help to alleviate many a pain.

Meeting old classmates will make us feel

That this is worth while and life is real.

Polish store teeth and bifocal glasses

So we can smile at whatever passes.

Don't tell your age, but if you do
Subtract from it a year or two.

Forget pitying smiles of the younger kind,

Remember in time that they will find

A stoop in the shoulders, a creak
in the joints,
And a number of things that cause annoyance.
Reflect that we may not pass this way
Another time, another day;
So let's be cheerful, happy, and gay.

Tighten our belts if that be possible
Make up our minds that we're responsible
For a big REUNION this coming
May
At INDIANA — REMEMBER THE DAY.

COLLEGE FROSH RANK HIGH HERE

● A comparison of the freshmen who entered Penn State in September, 1959, and freshmen who entered Indiana State College in September, 1959, shows that the Indiana State College freshmen rated higher in terms of rank in high school classes than did those at Penn State.

Of the freshmen who entered Indiana State College, 51.7 percent were in the highest fifth of their high school graduating classes whereas 45.1 per cent of those entering Penn State were in the highest fifth of their high school graduating classes.

Of the Indiana State College freshmen, 82.3 percent were in the highest two-fifths of their high school graduating classes whereas 81.0 percent of the Penn State freshmen were in the highest two-fifths of their high school graduating classes.

Both colleges took about the same number from the lower two-fifths of the high school graduating classes. Penn State had 4.5 in this category and Indiana State College has 4.6 percent.

A note appearing in the Pennsylvania State University Faculty Bulletin says, "One thing seems clear, Penn State has a student body with intellectual potential that we can proudly compare with students in other top American universities."

If this be so, on the basis of the figures given in the present article, then the same thing can be said about Indiana State College, which in this particular group at least, outranks Penn State.
